RANDVILLE HALL FUTURE

Approximately five people from the Randville area were in attendance. The Rusch's, the Presley's, and Vance Jones. Discussion about how often the hall was used, maintenance issues, cost of repairs, utility expense, and future usage was all brought up. There have not been many rentals in the past few years. In fact, some people are using the hall without any fee. The wheelchair ramp, basement cracks, support posts, window repairs, flashing replacement, etc., all came under discussion. The cost of maintaining the hall needs to be taken into account. Vance Jones would like to see it sold. Others were in favor of keeping the hall and bring it up to par. The State Police Post in Iron Mountain has funding to build a pavilion near the Tom King monument site. Don Minerick went to the Iron Mountain Courthouse, but was unable to find a deed to the property to see if a reversion clause has been written in. The Board was in agreement to get estimates to fix the building and go from there.
